1. The Communist Party is delighted over the refusal of the Muslim League to enter the Constituent Assembly and the request that the British dissolve the Constituent Assembly.
2. The Communist Party does not have a large following among the masses, therefore it always enters into popular movements against rulers and exploits the situation, as it cannot start any movement of its own.
3. The Communists have no hope of coming into an agreement with Congress but will definitely join any non-cooperation movement initiated by Congress. The Patel Group, which represents Hindu Capitalist interests will not let the Communist Party in the Congress again.
4. The opposition of Congress came about chiefly because the Communist Party agrees principally to the right of self determination by different groups and communities. This amounts to submission to the Muslim League's demand for Pakistan.
